LEAVES POLICY

Issued October 2019 • Reviewed July 2025

PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to provide Nagwa's employees with a standard leaves policy to ensure they maintain a healthy balance between their personal lives and work-related obligations.

SCOPE

This policy applies to all full-time employees.

RESPONSIBILITY

It is the responsibility of the direct managers, unit managers, and the personnel team to make sure the policy is adhered to.

POLICY

The month cycle starts on the 21st of each month and ends on the 20th of the following month. All employees must submit their requests (leaves/permissions) before the 20th of the month, and all requests must be approved no later than that. Any leave without a corresponding approval after the 21st will be considered an absence without permission. Any absence without permission is not acceptable and deductions from the employee's salary will be made at double the rate. In addition, employees may be subject to disciplinary measures.

TYPES OF LEAVES

Annual Leave

An employee is entitled to 21 days of annual leave. If they have a record of 10 years or more of social insurance or are over 50 years old, they are entitled to 30 days of annual leave.

An employee who has used up all of their annual leaves may request a leave that is to be deducted from their gross salary at double the rate. In such cases, the approval of their direct manager is required.

Newly hired employees can start requesting leaves on the first day of the second quarter of their employment.

At the end of the year, a maximum of 10 days of the employee's unused annual leave balance may be carried over to the next year. For employees who have a record of 10 years or more of social insurance or who are over 50 years old, a maximum of 15 days may be carried over to the following year's annual leave balance.

All annual leave requests must be submitted and approved on the HR system no later than the 21st of the month. It is required to verbally discuss the annual leave request as far in advance as possible with your direct manager to ensure that they are notified.

Employees who occupy some jobs in the support platform unit will be required to request an annual leave by 5:00 pm at the latest on the working day before the requested leave. This is mainly due to the nature of the job and the business needs of that work unit.

Days off (Fridays and Saturdays) and other holidays are not counted as annual leaves if they happen to be during an annual leave.

Employees who spent less than one full year in service shall be entitled to an annual leave in proportion to the period spent in work, provided that they spent 3 months in service.

Upon resignation or termination of employment, the employee shall receive pay for leave days earned but not used within the relevant accrual period. In addition, an employee shall pay for leave days consumed in excess within the relevant accrual period.

An employee can request a half-day leave either from 8:00 am to 12:00 pm or from 1:00 pm to 4:00 pm. This type of leave is deducted from the employee's annual balance.

National Holidays
All employees are eligible to receive fully paid official public holidays (a maximum of 15 days per year) that are announced by the company each year.

Sick Leave
Any employee proved to be sick by appropriate medical documentation is eligible to paid sick leave for up to 5 working days per calendar year at 75% of the employee's daily compensation.

Appropriate medical documentation is defined as a sick note from a physician inside Nagwa's medical insurance network or a medical note from outside the network but approved by the network physician. The sick note must mention the case and the number of rest days needed for the case.

Proven sick days above 5 days in the same calendar year must be claimed from the concerned state authorities. The concerned authorities are the state medical insurance authority. The employee must obtain a medical sick note from one of the state medical insurance hospitals and submit a request to claim the sickness compensation from the state medical insurance authority. As per law, the expected compensation will be 75% of the daily rate based on the salary upon which social insurance payments are calculated for the first 90 sick days per calendar year. If an employee is proved to be sick for more than 90 days, the excess days might be paid at 85% of the daily rate based on the salary upon which the social insurance payments are calculated. The total of sick days in one calendar year must not exceed 180 days. The sick notes must be provided to the company in order to grant the sick leave but not the payment. The HR department will assist the employee to claim their sick leave compensation from the state medical insurance authorities upon the employee's request and presentation of proper documentation.

An employee who proves a severe illness (hospitalization or confinement for observation following illness or injury) is granted a sick leave at 75% of their total salary for the first 90 days and at 85% of their total salary for the following 90 days. Payment will be made through the company, not through state medical insurance.

MedRight physician approval along with HR Department approval is a must for proceeding with severe illness cases. In case an employee needs to exceed 180 days in a calendar year, they will be referred to a medical board to render a decision.

An employee who misuses the sick leave policy will be subjected to disciplinary action up to termination.

An employee should attach the medical sick note as a soft copy on the HR system (Menaitech) and hand a hard copy to the payroll and personnel team.

Bereavement
An employee is eligible for this type of leave in the case of the death of a first-degree relative (father, mother, brother, sister, husband, wife, son, or daughter).

A bereavement leave can last a maximum of three calendar days from the day of the incident.

Business Trip
An employee who travels abroad or within Egypt to complete business tasks should request this type of leave.

Breastfeeding
Any female staff member shall be entitled to a daily rest period of an hour for nursing during the 24 months following the date of her child's birth.

Paternity Leave
Any male member of staff is entitled to a paid leave of three calendar days from the date of his child's birth.

Marriage Leave
An employee who spent at least six months at Nagwa is entitled to two paid calendar weeks as a marriage leave.

The employee is entitled to this type of leave once during their employment with Nagwa.

The approvals of the direct manager and the HR department must be obtained.

Military Leave
Male employees who are drafted into the military for service or for training purposes are eligible to a paid leave for the length of their draft.

Upon return, the employee should provide proper documentation to the HR department showing the period during which he served.

Pilgrimage Leave
Employees who completed 5 insured years at Nagwa are entitled to request a paid leave for up to 20 working days for the purpose of going on a pilgrimage or visiting Jerusalem.

This leave is granted only once during the whole employee's service period.

Educational Leave (Core of Business)
This type of leave can only be granted upon the approval of the organizational development team and the direct manager after carefully assessing the type of training/education to determine if it is directly related to the core of the employee's job role or not.

The employee will be entitled to 15 days of paid educational leave as well as 15 days of unpaid leave. The leave days balance shall only last for a year starting from the date of approval.

Appropriate documentation must be provided to the organization development team on the training/education scope as well as the purpose of the requested leave time.

The approvals of the direct manager and the human resources manager must be obtained.

Unpaid Educational Leave (Noncore of Business)
Employees at Nagwa may be granted a training leave to further their education or training in any field of study at the discretion of the company and upon the approval of the organizational development department and the direct manager.

The employee will be entitled to 30 days of unpaid leave; the leave days balance shall only last for a year starting from the date of approval.

Full-day requests must be submitted through the leaves module.

The approval of the direct manager and the human resources manager must be obtained.

Permitted Absence
Employees who consumed their annual leave balance and need extra days off are allowed, upon their direct managers' approval, to take a permitted absence leave. A permitted absence in this case is deducted from their gross salary at double the rate.

Permitted Absence (During Probation)
Newly hired employees, during the first quarter of their employment, are eligible to request not more than 5 days of leave upon the approval of their direct manager. A permitted absence in this case is deducted from the employees' salary at a single rate.

An employee is entitled to a maximum of 2 days in the first month of their probation period. If they are not used, they are automatically transferred to the next month such that, by the end of their probation, the employee can take 5 days off in a row.

Unpaid Leave
Employees who have an emergency that necessitates taking time off can use this type of leave for a maximum of one calendar month.

The minimum number of days that can be requested as unpaid leaves is 5 working days in emergency cases only. Fridays and Saturdays will be included and deducted from the salary.

Unpaid leave is deducted from the employees' gross salaries at a single rate and requires the approvals of the direct manager, head of unit, and the HR manager.

Workday
An employee who performs a business task that lasts a full working day outside the premises due to their job nature should request this type of leave. The direct manager's approval must be obtained.

TIME PERMISSIONS

Annual Leave

- Nagwa allows time permissions upon the approval of the direct manager.
- Approved permissions are deducted from the employee's gross salary.
- An employee can request a maximum of two permissions per month each of a minimum of one hour and a maximum of two hours.
- Permissions will be deducted from the employee's gross salary at a single rate.
- Any longer periods will not be accepted as permissions and will be deducted from the employee's salary at double the rate.
- All employees are entitled to 60 minutes per month as accepted lateness, whether used as one hour at a time or as several minutes per day during the whole month.

Educational Permission (Core of Business)

Upon providing appropriate documentation and obtaining proper approvals, an employee can request an educational permission for partial days as a minimum of one hour, provided that the total number of paid education leaves and educational permissions does not exceed 15 paid days and 15 unpaid days in a calendar year.

Educational Permission (Noncore of Business)

Upon providing appropriate documentation and obtaining proper approvals, an employee can request an educational permission for partial days as a minimum of one hour provided that the total number of unpaid education leaves and educational permissions does not exceed 30 unpaid days per calendar year.

Work Mission

An employee who performs business tasks outside the premises should request this type of leave. The direct manager's approval must be obtained.
